Last night I was dreaming, saw a mountain ever so high
Right on top, there was a chrystal ball, it was beckoning to me
Then suddenly the rains came, and flushed it down to the ground
The dark clouds overwhelmed me, they were all around

When I opened my eyes ; surprised, cause I thought it was real That's when I realized, it's not always what it seems
No need to keep climbing, cause it can come to your door
So open your arms, get ready for more

Today, no longer dreaming, I'm on top nothing in my way
Standing strong, all the clouds have gone away

Instr. Solo..

Now with opened eyes, connected, to what I can feel
It's my chrysal ball, my design no longer surreal
No need to keep climbing, cause it can come to your door
So open your arms, get ready for more

Today, no longer dreaming, I'm on top; nothing in my way
Standing strong, all the clouds have gone away
